Whyld Equestrian

TERM 1 2023

A word from Charlotte

Welcome to our first newsletter of the year, I will try to keep you all updated with events horses and news alike as much as possible. It's been 2 and half years now since I started the business and boy have we grown!

I can't thank all of you enough for your business, your continued support has allowed me to create the most wonderful horse community, lessons, transport with the new float, more horses and equipment. I am living the dream and working hard every day to meet that!

'If you have a vision follow your dreams, find good people and more importantly back yourself ' and this leads me to our amazing Lucy.

Lucy and daughter Ziggy dedicated to the yard!

Yard hand over

Evie kindly handed over the reins for the yard in January and pursued a new venture in her life which allowed me to expand and create new areas in my business.

We welcomed Lucy, our lovely yard manager who sees the day to day running of the stables, takes care of our wonderful horses both Whyld EC horse and the agisters. Lucy has been a breath of fresh air always bringing a smile with her every day and such positivity. Her attention to detail is exceptional and am sure we can all the agree the yard is looking fabulous.

Horses -

We have had 2 new additions' in horse power with Stevie and Kiabe adding to the team and are now solid members with a big fan base! With the Lovely Jack suffering a career ending injury to his leg he has been wondering what's happening with his replacements and we miss having him dearly in the school. However, he is slowly recovering and though he can't be ridden he is a firm horsemanship horse allowing plaiting grooming and lots of love for him!

Lessons-

We have been building on our lessons focussing on lots of pole work this term and accuracy around the arena especially in the movements of a dressage test and how to ride and think quickly around a show jumping course. Big improvements from all riders has been shown, by jumping their first course, riding at an event or clinic, moving to a different horse and adapting so well to the challenges that may arise. As we all know horses are not machines and we have to be so adaptable. One day on cloud nine next day we may hit the floor! As some of you may know I spent a lot of time on the floor this start to the year! Let's hope for no more!

Events –

We have been out and about this term, and Whyld EC. Riders have competed in Showjumping and Dressage competitions, we have been out to Avondale Pony Club Grounds, and Northside Riding Club Bring Your Own coach day. All successes from everyone, learning the ropes of competitions.

Especially big well-done to Grace Careless with Ben who competed at Warringah Dressage at the end of March in her first ever competition!!
